San Francesco da Paola
di Reggio Emilia

Within the Soli Deo Gloria program "Organs, Sounds and Voices of the City", Friday June 21. 2019 at 9:30 pm in the splendid setting of the Great Cloister of San Pietro in Reggio Emilia, another event will be offered within Alif Aleph Alfa.

This time it will be something "lighter", more "secular". The subtitle will be:

Sing and play together!

The event will be part of the Fête de la Musique (World Music Day).

A group of Iranians will participate: Dara Nowroozi (kitar), Elyar Tahouri (tar), who were already with us on 16 december last year, Vahid E. Hosseini (setar), Reza Moafpoorian (tombak, darbuka, cajon) will play their traditional music.

The Choir Alif Aleph Alfa conducted by Silvia Perucchetti will sing pieces of our polyphonic European tradition. Then, Songs of the Jewish tradition, by two sopranos who were also with us on December 16 last year: Ahava Katzin and Cristina Miriam Chiaffoni.

We will welcome the highly respected Egyptian/US jazz player from Baltimore, Todd Marcus, who will step in with his unique style in the different pieces of music.

The same will do two local musicians, Simone Copellini (trumpet, flugelhorn) and Patrizio Ligabue (didgeridoo, overtone singing).

Gran finale: the children choir CavriCanto conducted by Ilaria Cavalca and accompanied by Nicole Costoli will start the fusion of all musicians singing and playing Beethoven's Ode to Joy, with the words of Arrigo Boito.

Silk Road Project and Yo-Yo Ma share these good feelings and regret not to be in Reggio today!
